OFF FOR BOSTON.

North Adams and Adams Knights Templars Leave for the Conclave.

A large delegation from St. Paul com-
morning accompanied by the Continental drum corps for Boston to attend the triennial convocation of the order. Many friends bade them good by. About seventy went from here, representing the commanderies of this town and Adams. About twenty-five women went also. On their arrival in Boston they will march to their quarters on St. James avenue and Brunswick hotel. The overflow will be at the hotel. The principal event of the program of the convocation in which there is public interest will be the great street parade tomorrow in which so many thousands of the knights will take part.
Tomorrow evening there will be a reception to the knights and guests in Mechanic's hall. Wednesday morning there will be the prize drill on the ball grounds, which will have six of the crack commanderies of the country competing. In the evening there will be another reception. During the day there will be free excursions to the harbor for Knights and ladies. Thursday evening a banquet will begin the grand encampment officers by the triennial committee at the Vendome. About 100 persons will be present at the banquet and among them will be Dr. W. S. Carr of this town. Dr. Carr will be on the grand marshal's staff. Col. W. F. Merriam will have command of the North Adams and Adams men throughout the convocation. St.
Paul commandery is sending a delegation
as large in proportion to its membership
as any commandery and every man of it

STILL UNCONSCIOUS.

Paul Boulger's Strange Accident
At Blackinton Last Night.

MYSTERY HOW THE WAGON UPSET.

His Companions Tell Conflicting Stories.
The Wagon Smashed. The man
Taken to Dr. Carr's Office
Where He Lay Unconscious. Taken Home.

Paul Boulger met with a serious accident last night near Blackinton in which he was rendered unconscious and which may prove fatal. Not much reliable information concerning the accident could be obtained as his companions told very conflicting stories, evidently for the purpose of veiling the truth. The rig which the three young men had hired from Leach's livery stable on Main street for the purpose of going to Adams. When the wagon was returned it was badly damaged. The seat back was torn off and there was every indication of the wagon having been overturned and dragged for some distance. Two boys returned the wagon to the stable about 8 o'clock.

At that time Mr. Boulger was lying in a bed in Dr. Carr's office and was unconscious. He had not any bruises on him that would indicate he had received an injury that would overcome him as much as he was, yet his companions said he was all right before the accident. About an hour after the accident the man was still unconscious and was removed to his home on Ashland street. It was believed the horse stepped on him, but there was no evidence of that.

His companions told several stories about how the accident happened. One story was that they were driving home
"at a slow trot" and turned in at the wrong road. Discovering the wrong turn Mr. Boulger reined quickly out and the wagon was upset.

At noon today Mr. Boulger was still unconscious. He is under the care of Dr. O.
J. Brown and at 10 o'clock he appeared to be worse than he had been in the morning. There is no indication of any fracture.

ENTRIES AND PRIZES.

The Diocesan Field Day's Sport Events and the Prizes to be Given.

LONG LIST OF ATHLETIC CONTESTANTS

The Event Promises to be One Long to be Remembered in North Adams. Every Lover of Sport
will be Pleased.

A week from today is Labor day and a gala day for North Adams. The temperance societies of the Springfield Diocesan union are prepared to give this town such a spectacle as it has not seen before.
North Adams may make up its mind to surrender to its visitors next Monday and be taken into the temperance camp from the depot to the hospital, and from Furnace hill to our inaccessible sky-scraping park. We are to be literally overrun and crowded with our visitors from all western and central Massachusetts.

But there is just one sentiment for our temperance visitors—welcome.
Interest, of course, centers in the athletic contests of the day. Worcester is the most prominent city in the games.
One of its papers has the following to say which explains very well the whole situation.

"As usual Worcester athletes will lead in the games at North Adams on the occasion of the 12th annual field day of the Catholic total abstinence union of the diocese of Springfield, and it will be seen by a glance at the list of entries given that nearly all the starters in the various events will be from this city.

"Not only that but with the exception of a few entered from the Catholic young men's gymnasium of Chicopee Falls, all the athletes who will compete are members of either St. Paul's gymnasium or the St.
Anne's society of this city, and the old-time athletic rivalry between the two societies will be the leading feature of the games.

"The games will be the first run under the auspices of the Springfield diocesan amateur athletic union, and more than usual interest will attach to them on that account. The union has, by its constitution, full control of all athletic matters
at the annual field day or on any occasion
at which members of the Father Mathew societies compete, when held by subordinate unions or societies, and on the success or failure of this experiment depends the continuance of the athletic union
within the total abstinence union.

The games will be run under the sanction of the New England Amateur Athletic union and the events include a 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard run, 880-yard run, mile run, 120-yard hurdles, 220-yard hurdles, running broad jump, running high jump, pole vault, putting the 16-pound shot and the hop, step and jump.
Altogether there are 168 entries from three societies, St. Anne's and St. Paul's of this city and the Catholic Young Men's Gymnasium of Chicopee Falls. In none of the other places in the diocese where are Father Mathew societies does the amateur athletic idea prevail, but if the games are successfully run off at the field day it is expected that a big impetus will be given to amateur athletics throughout the diocese and that renewed interest will be taken in this form of sport.

Of the entries scheduled, sixty-three are credited to the St. Anne's, sixty-four to the St. Paul's and thirty-nine to the Chicopee Falls society. The exciting events as far as the Worcester societies are concerned will be the 880-yard and one mile runs, in both of which the fastest men of each society is entered. In these races J. D. Delaney will run for St. Paul's and J. J. Mc-Laughlin for St. Anne's.

BRIDE OF TWO WEEKS

Ended Her Career at the Same Time as Did Her Erring Husband.

She Had Clung to Him as Her Last Refuge.

Story of a Couple Who Took Their Own Lives by Use of Chloral.

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—The bodies of Louis Hammond of New York and his wife, who committed suicide by taking chloral at the American House, are at the morgue. The bodies will be kept there two or three days, and unless friends claim, they will be buried by the city.

A dispatch from New York says the reason why Hammond and his bride of two weeks concluded to end their lives is made reasonably clear by the story told by Mr. Hammond's former partner, Irving Bittner, and by Mrs. John O'Donnell, the wife of an engineer, residing on East Eighth-street, that city.

Mrs. O'Donnell and her daughter Lilian seem to have been the only intimate friends of the Hammonds. Mr. Bittner is in the petroleum business in this city. He gave the following account of his business relations with Hammond: "We were together in business about seven months. Hammond was a peculiar fellow and would seldom talk about his affairs. All I know is that he told me he came from Des Moines, and that his father and mother were dead."

On Saturday, July 27, I bought Hammond out. We discussed the matter, and on the following Monday I discovered that on the Friday previous he had drawn from the bank a considerable sum of money belonging to the firm. I will not name the bank or the amount. I took no legal steps against him. Maybe I should have done so if I could have found him. In all probability it was fear of this that drove him to suicide. I can't see, however, how he could have become so quickly bankrupt, unless he speculated."

Mrs. O'Donnell and Miss O'Donnell explained Mrs. Hammond's antecedents as follows: Mrs. Hammond's mother, who is a trained nurse by profession, is a widow. Kathryn was for six years with Mrs. Osborne, who lives in Belleville, Newark. She was for a time a seamstress in Newark, living with her sister. Then she studied stenography at the Orange Institute. In April last she came to live with Mrs. O'Donnell, who had just moved to this city.

"In the family," said Mrs. O'Donnell, "she got a place, but she lost it when winter came. Then she went to her mother and asked for shelter, because she did not want to burden us any longer. Her mother, she informed us, told her that she had no room for her. She came back and said: 'They are lost to me forever. Never let them know what happened to me. If I do, keep them away. I believe I should rise out of my coffin if I knew they were near.'"

"Out of work, friendless, except for it seems she clung to this man Hammond as a last refuge, and when that failed, resolved to die."

SHOT WIFE AND HIMSELF.
 The Woman May Recover but Daniel McLeod Is Dead.

MALDEN, Mass., Aug. 25.—Daniel J. McLeod, a Melrose carpenter, attempted to kill his divorced wife, Mary McLeod, on Washington street, yesterday afternoon, and afterward shot himself through the head, dying instantly. Although the woman was badly injured, it was thought that she will recover. The shooting occurred in a narrow passageway between a house and barn.

Mary McLeod, who is employed as a domestic by J. P. Sweet, obtained a divorce from her husband 2½ years ago. Since then McLeod has frequently asked her to live with him, once threatening to shoot her if she refused.

Yesterday he met her on Washington street and renewed his request. Mary refused, and informed him that she did not wish him to follow her around. McLeod became angry at her reply, and, drawing a .38-caliber revolver, fired two shots at the woman, who was close behind him.

The first shot struck her jaw, the bullet passing through the roof of her mouth and out through the left cheek. She ran away before the second was fired, and it missed her. McLeod then placed the weapon behind his right ear and fired. The bullet passed through the brain, and he died instantly.

A FRUITLESS SEARCH.
 Three Hundred Armed Men Scoured Woods for the Wild Man.

WEST WINSTON, Conn., Aug. 25.—The hunt for the wild man in the woods of Colerbrook yesterday was made by a posse of 300 armed men, but all their scouting was of no avail. The only trace of the wild man to be seen were his footprints.

A hut was also discovered on the Beardsley farm, a half mile south of where the wild man had last night shot so many people. A fireplace and a bottle, quite full with milk, were all there were to be found within the hut. Farmers think it is one of his homes.

Some picnickers recently located a small cabin, and ran to town, saying they had seen the wild man's cabin in the woods. Investigation yesterday showed it to be the present quarters of a North Pond, a hermit, who has lived in the forest the past 20 years.

Searching parties are liable to start out any time. The inhabitants of Colerbrook and other small hamlets north, as far as Sandfield, propose to organize among themselves to hunt the terror.

Timely Rescue.
 NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 25.—Steamer Commodore last night picked up and saved a life in the Sound containing four men. A life was clinging to the boat, as it was not large enough to contain five. They were Hartford men, who had been out for a cruise in a sailboat. The boat was struck by a squall, breaking the mast and starting the timbers so that she soon filled with water. The men took to the small boat and were helpless when picked up.

Murder at Waterbury.
 WATERBURY, Conn., Aug. 25.—Mariano Pagliaro, 21 years old, was almost instantly killed during a brawl in the Italian quarter. Joseph Calo and Joseph Pagliaro, the dead man's cousin, were under arrest for the murder. Calo had existed between the men for some months. Saturday night, while all were in drink, the younger Pagliaro boasted that he could thrash Calo and his friends. The latter thereupon attacked him, and Pagliaro received a deep cut from a knife in the neck, severing several large blood vessels. He bled to death in about three minutes. It is believed that Calo struck the blow. The two men arrested are severely cut.

Suicide Epidemic.
 KANSAS CITY, Aug. 25.—Henry E. Roll, for many years a leading dry goods merchant here, committed suicide by shooting. Financial losses led to the deed. This is the fourth suicide of prominent men in Kansas City within many days.

Drowning Accidents.

BOOTHBAY, Me., Aug. 25.—Edwin G. Hoselton, a hotel proprietor, and Henry Fuller Sanderson of New York, were drowned Saturday night by the capsizing of the yacht Mollie C. in Boothbay harbor. Miss Minto Powers, Captain Reed of the yacht and Mrs. Sanderson were revived only after several hours' work. The yacht was caught in a fearful squall that came without warning.

Electric in Collision.
 JAVENHILL, Mass., Aug. 25.—Two cars on the Lowell and Haverhill electric railroad collided Saturday night between Lawrence and this place. Both were going at a high speed. Motorman Brightman sustained a fracture of the leg, and Magness Daily was seriously injured. Several other passengers were bruised. The accident resulted from a misunderstanding of signals at a turnout.

Alleged Error of Drug Clerk.
 BOSTON, Aug. 25.—John Dolan, 17 years old, employed by Greenough A. Bolster, a druggist, was arrested last night on a charge of manslaughter. Dolan compounded a prescription for Mrs. Mary J. Tunney. She gave some of the medicine to her infant child, and it is alleged that it caused its death.

Fatally Assaulted by Toughs.
 PROVIDENCE, Aug. 25.—John McCarron, 62 years of age, is at the Rhode Island hospital, and in a dying condition. The old man was assaulted by a gang of unknown toughs on Atwell's avenue. One of them hit him on the head with a large stone, fracturing his skull. No arrests have been made.

Every Bar Running.
 MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 25.—Notwithstanding the raids on the Auburn saloon keepers Friday night, every bar was running full blast yesterday, and entirely unmolested by the Auburn officials. There were 33 arrests for drunkenness, and the police station in this city is filled to overflowing.

Refused to Explain.
 PROVIDENCE, Aug. 25.—The police were called into a house in the second district yesterday afternoon, and found Cora Taylor, housekeeper for Daniel Profit, in a critical condition. She said someone had beaten her with a club, but would not state who.

Her Own Executioner.
 NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 25.—Kate Loomis, aged 49, wife of Oliver Loomis, a fisherman, committed suicide by hanging. She was arrested for a trivial offense, but was released. Her husband turned her out of doors and she became despondent.

Death of H. O. Houghton.
 NORTH ANNOVER, Mass., Aug. 25.—H. O. Houghton, Sr., head of the publishing house of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston, died suddenly from heart failure at his summer residence here yesterday afternoon. He was 70 years old.

Fatally Beaten.
 PROVIDENCE, Aug. 25.—Thomas McCarron was beaten early yesterday morning on Atwell avenue by three young men. His skull was fractured, and he will die. No arrests have been made as yet.

Booze on the Water.
 BOSTON, Aug. 25.—The steam yacht Elgote was boarded by liquor officers yesterday afternoon, and over 20 gallons of beer were seized. Charles H. Chaso was arrested for violation of the liquor laws.

Old Man Killed.
 BOSTON, Aug. 25.—Thomas Mahoney, 65 years old, was struck by a shifting engine in a South Boston freight yard and instantly killed. He was walking up the track on his way home.

Double Drowning Accident.
 WALTHAM, Mass., Aug. 25.—Two unknown men were drowned in the Charles, while in a canoe, near Lily Point grove, yesterday afternoon. The bodies of both men were recovered.

Death Was Instant.
 QUINCY, Mass., Aug. 25.—John A. Lynch of Brockton fell beneath the wheels of an electric car last night on the Nantasket beach line, and was instantly killed.

Unhappy Matrimonial Life.
 BOSTON, Aug. 25.—J. J. Webster, 54 years old, committed suicide at the Sudbury House by the use of morphine. Domestic troubles caused the deed.

An Unsafe Beverage.
 BOSTON, Aug. 25.—William Lencore, 21 years old, died yesterday from the effects of drinking carbolic acid, taken in mistake for whiskey.

Struck by an Electric.
 PROVIDENCE, Aug. 25.—Rose E. Stedden, 4 years old, was fatally injured by being struck by an electric car on Plainfield street.

New England Briefs.
 A patrolman was brutally assaulted by toughs on Boston Common.

The postoffice at Darien, Conn., was entered by burglars, who got but little booty.

Paul Boulger was thrown from a buggy near Blackinton, Mass., and perhaps fatally hurt.

The Colonias Settle.
 NAPLES, Aug. 25.—The settlement that has been arrived at between Prince and Princess Colonna, the latter being the stepdaughter of John W. Mackay, the American capitalist, gives the princess the custody of the children, she paying the prince 60,000 francs yearly.

Ten Per Cent Increase.

THE WHITE SQUADRON

Arrives in Boston to Add Dignity and Grace to Templars' Conclave.

Thousands of Knights Are Pouring Into the Hub.

"The Little Commandery" Promises to Be One of the Chief Attractions.

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—The four ships of the White Squadron were moving about Massachusetts bay yesterday and steamed into the harbor this morning. The four cruisers are the New York, Montgomery, Minneapolis and Raleigh.

These vessels compose the most powerful squadron ever assembled in these waters. More vessels, it is true, have been here at once, and in recent years, but none represented so well the power of modern naval means of offense and defense.

All the four cruisers represent the latest developments in naval architecture, armament and engineering, as all are brand new vessels whose keels having been laid but five years ago, and all have been launched within three years.

On the Hustle.
 Little was indoors yesterday as far as the Knights Templar are concerned. The whole story was pictured on the streets. There was no hour of the day that the hotels, depots and headquarters of commanderies were not crowded, but they continually changed in personality, people coming and going, staying but a few moments to transact business, attend to their affairs or see what the going was, according to their relation in the present excitement.

Local commanderies of the Knights Templar were on the alert all day looking after the welfare of their fellow Knights who have been coming in at intervals, some of them after long and tedious journeys from the south and west.

The trains, with one exception, were from one to three hours late, but when the Knights arrived their welcome was such that any discomforts they had encountered were banished.

At the Union station a scene was presented that had never been witnessed in this city on a Sabbath before. The vast crowd of spectators who cheered each arriving delegation numbered far into the thousands, and the strains of music from the bands of the escorting commanderies enlivened the tedious wait.

The first delegation to arrive over the Fitchburg road was the Pittsburgh commandery of Pittsburgh, which numbered 100 Knights and their ladies. They were met with Masonic honors, and escorted by the Boston commandery to their headquarters. The Ascalon commandery brought 70 Knights and ladies from St. Louis.

The chief arrival yesterday was that of Grand Master Hugh McCurdy, who, with 400 Knights and ladies from Detroit commandery of Detroit, reached here about 10 o'clock. This commandery is noted as the crack regiment in the drill contests, and will no doubt be heard from in Wednesday's competition.

This afternoon a train of 12 cars containing Iowa delegates to the number of 300 Knights and ladies were warmly welcomed. The delegation that have excited the most curiosity of the citizens were the Golden Gate of San Francisco, which arrived yesterday afternoon. They were escorted through the streets by the Boston commandery. At the head of this parade was a 4-months-old cinnamon bear, which caused much amusement among the spectators. His bearship, however, got tired before the end of the route, and

Had to Drop Out.
 During the early evening and up to midnight, train upon train brought in their quota of living freight. The grand commandery of Iowa, comprising 400 Knights and 100 ladies, arrived in time for a late tea at the grand commandery of Maryland were welcomed and escorted to the Vendome. This delegation were all from Baltimore, comprising 250 Knights, accompanied by a number of ladies. The Detroit commandery of 100 Knights and 70 ladies were escorted by the Boston commandery to the Vendome.

At the other depots in the city large delegations arrived, and were taken in charge by their respective commanderies. The streets of the city are thronged with visitors and citizens, who are viewing the decorations and waiting for the occasional appearance of a visiting delegation escorted by a commandery headed with a band.

A special Knights Templar service was held in Trinity church yesterday afternoon, when that church was crowded by the Knights and their ladies. The service was preached by Grand Prelate Joseph M. McGrath. He chose for his text Matthew x, 42: "And whosoever shall give to drink unto these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward."

After the service the Knights, headed by Grand Master McCurdy, Grand Commander Lawrence and the other dignitaries of the grand commandery, returned in parade to the Vendome.

Today is the busy day for arrivals. Over 250 delegations are scheduled to reach this city.

Lads From Louisville.
 It is no disparagement to the other bodies to say that the chief interest is centered in the appearance at the drill of the "Little Commandery" composed of boys from the Kentucky Widows' and Orphans' home. These boys are from 12 to 15 years of age, three only being over 15, and the ease and precision with which they execute all the movements of Knights Templar tactics will astonish all beholders.

The triennial committee of Massachusetts and Rhode Island requested that the "Little Commandery" be allowed to come to Boston as its guests during the convocation work, and the work came from the directors that, as Sir Knight H. B. Grant had consented to be responsible for their training and oversight, and that the Louisville Masons would replenish the uniforms, the directors were willing that the boys should accept.

Boston generously provided the shews of war, and Little Commandery arrived at the Union station in this city last evening after a very enjoyable trip through Canada and among the White Mountains.

As has been before intimated, the grand commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Island is to take the Little Commandery from "threshold to threshold," and the "mascots," as the boys from the pet Masonic institution are affectionately called, will be met on their arrival in Boston by Eminent Sir Winthrop Messenger, who, as chairman of the drill committee, will have special charge of these juvenile guests. The "Little Commandery" will leave for home Sunday next, via New York city, where a glorious time awaits them.

A Grievance.
 St. John commandery, No. 1, Knights Templar, of Providence, the oldest commandery in America, has refused to join in the parade at Boston next Tuesday, because of a misunderstanding with Grand Commander S. C. Lawrence. When the program was arranged in March, St. John's commandery was given the right of being the senior organization.

transpired last week that General Lawrence had changed his plans and had decided to place St. John commandery, No. 2, of Boston, ahead of Providence.

Judge Carpenter, co-ordinator of St. John commandery, No. 1, called on General Lawrence and asked him to reconsider his change, but had been decided on. After considering the matter, St. John commandery, No. 1, decided not to parade.

Cavalry commandery of Providence is considering the advisability of also remaining out of the parade in sympathy. The leading members of St. John commandery feel that as they have been given right of line at Washington and Denver, they should be first in line of unmatched commanderies in the parade.

The commandery expended several hundred dollars in purchasing new flags, banners, regalia, etc., besides hiring Reeves' American band. The delegates will attend the convocation, and will occupy their headquarters as if nothing had happened.

General Lawrence said last night that no change was made in the roster of the parade, that it is the custom of the commandery to accept the grand commandery, hence St. John of Boston will fill this office. St. John of Providence, on account of seniority, was assigned to the head of the second division, its usual place. General Lawrence states that he is utterly at a loss to understand the action of the Providence commandery.

Modern Barbarity.
 CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Aug. 25.—A bull was killed in the arena at Gillett yesterday in the presence of 6000 people, and work was done in the style of Spain at Mexico. The first bull turned into the arena was an exceedingly tame animal, and refused to fight even after the darts were in him. The next animal made a fight for his life. Chiretta, king of the arena, made two stabs at the animal, and the bull, who had practically died, but the Mexicans, with the red cloaks, tossed the creature and made him dart at them. One of them came within an arm's length of his life, and there was great excitement in consequence. Not a few women fainted.

Said He Feared Lynching.
 ANTONETTE, Colo., Aug. 25.—Elmer Looscher, the engineer of the Gundry hotel, under arrest here, claims that he was in no way responsible for the explosion. He says that three months ago a boiler inspector declared the boiler unsafe, and ordered Gundry to repair it. Gundry contracted to have the valves repaired, but it was incompletely done, and was left unfinished, so that Looscher himself had to cut out some of the flues. Since then the boiler had not been inspected. Gundry or Looscher looked after the boiler, and Looscher said that he was not a drinking man, but he feared because he feared lynching.

By his side lay Hazlie Hammond, an inmate of the house, with a bullet wound in her head. Noack, it is believed, was trying to induce the woman to leave the life she was leading and return to her home, and that when she refused he shot her and then killed himself. It is reported by some that Noack was the woman's half-brother, and by others that he was her husband. The doctors say the woman may live.

Hurrying Along.
 BRISTOL, R. I., Aug. 25.—The Defender now carries her new mast, it having been stepped last evening. Eight wire stays from the masthead were temporarily made fast to support the mast, and then the work of rigging had to be stopped on account of darkness. It was resumed at daylight this morning, and it is expected that everything will be in ship-shape tomorrow morning. Every effort is being made to have the steel boom ready at that time, but it is hardly thought possible that it can be completed so soon.

An Old Sport's End.
 VIENNA, Aug. 25.—A Hungarian named Theodore Jakabffy, whose horses won the highest number of races for many years, has committed suicide, by shooting, at Buda-Pesth. Recent losses had ruined him, and a court of honor had decided that he was disqualified from challenging to a duel a member of the National casino, who demanded his exclusion on account of defaults amounting to 500,000 florins.
